"The Singular Value Decomposition and the Real World "
Tim Olson

Abstract:

We will first discuss the basics of the singular value decomposition. We will then apply it to real data from walls in Afghanistan. We will talk about radar imaging, and how the SVD gives one an advantage into seeing thing other people don't see. The goal is to save innocent lives.